

The Anatomy of Insurance Cards

Card Information

Group Number

This is the unique ID of your or the main subscriber's employer.

Where To Find It

Insurance Name

Group Number

Group Number

ID Number

This is the unique number that identifies you to your insurance. Can also be called member id or subscriber id depending on your insurance.

Insurance Name

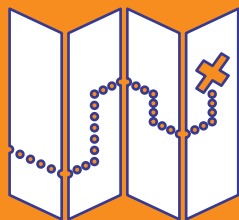

ID Number

ID Number

ID Number

Plan Type

Some examples of plan types are HMO, PPO, POS and EPO. Your plan defines your network of medical services and providers, as well as how you are billed.

Insurance Name

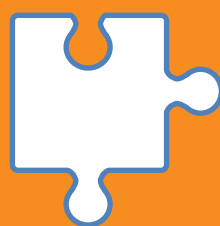

Plan Type Plan Type

Plan Type

For Medicare Card Holders

Part

For Medicare card holders, you'll want to look for which part(s) of Medicare you have. Look for Part A, Part B, or other.

Where To Find It

Insurance Name

Part

Part

↶ In 2018

Insurance companies may differ in where they place Group Number, ID Number and Plan Type.

But remember: Reception can always help you find these on your insurance card. Never hesitate to ask for help.

Example of An Insurance Card

Insurance Name

Plan Type

Plan Type

Group Number

ID Number

Group Number

ID Number

ID Number

*Part

*Part

Plan Type